CORONATION WEEK IN LONDON

The World's Metropolis Crowded With Tourists.

COLONIAL PREMIERS SORE

KING AND QUEEN GIVE DINNER FOR ROYAL VISITORS.

ONDON, June 23 .- The Prince of Wales had a busy day yesterday in receiving the royal guests related to his family who arrived in London. He paid three separate visits to the Victoria station for this purpose, where a special reception room, gay, with palms and flowers, had been arranged. The last guest to be received by the prince was the czarowich of Russia, who had arrived on one of the Russian imperial yachts and landed at Gravesend. The enormous and daily growing crowds and the babel of foreign tongues in London may perhaps be considered, so far, the most striking feature of the coronation ceremonies Early morning sees crowds of cyclists, mostly women, wheeling along the routes of the processions to view the decorations. Later in the day there begins an endless stream of vehicles every concelvable description, from the aristocratic equipages of the wealthy to humble costermonger or market carts containing entire families seated on chairs and stools.

Brakes crowded with tourists of every nationality are driven over the side seats on omnibuses, and on the side seats on omnibuses, and on the sidewalks are dense masses of slowly moving pedestrians.

The commissioner of police has issued an explanatory notice saying that the barriers which have been erected along the routes will not necessarily be closed during the processions, but from present appearances such a course will be bsolutely imperative to prevent serious accidents.

The list of their majesties' guests was headed by the czarowich of Russia, who arrived in London this evening, and included an imposing array of princes and princesses, and all the members of the British royal family. Buckingham palace was beautifully decorated and the bands of the Grenadier and the Coldstream Guards dis-coursed throughout the evening. The dinner was followed by a brilliant re-ception, which was attended by the members of the suites of all the foreign potentates now in London.

The crowds were so great tonight in Trafalgar square and in the various thoroughfares leading from this point that the omnibuses found it almost impossible to proceed. The congested condition of traffic above ground was practically repeated in the various underground routes, and the travel resources of the two penny tube and the steam underground lines were heavily taxed. Passengers on these lines had to wait long before they were able to board the overcrowded trains, Colonial Premiers Wrathy.

Speaking at a luncheon given to the colonial premiers by the North Staf-fordshire chamber of commerce today, R. J. Seddon, premier minister of New Zealand, complained that an attempt had been made to prejudice the posi-tion of the premiers before they arrived in England. He said the colonies had no desire to raise the fiscal ques-tion; that they wished to bind the empire together, not to disrupt it. Why could they not help the mother country with her colonies, he asked, by following the example of foreign nations in their goods? Such action, he said, would not interfere with fiscal rela-

Philadelphia, June 23.—The Record to-morrow will say: Negotiations have been concluded whereby the Postal Telegraph company will secure the 3,500 offices and all the lines owned by the Pennsylvania railroad, now operated by the Western Union. If Silver Champion Don't Accept, Democrats and Populists

Preliminary conferences began as early as noon today, and were entered into with a spirit by the party leaders, a large number of whom arrived today for both parties. The question uppermost in the minds of the great majority of the delegates is whether or not fusion can be accomplished and a candidate selected to head the ticket that will be satisfactory to all factions. The accomplishment of this result has been seriously questioned by a number of party leaders up to late this afternoon, but tonight a number of Pacific Seriously (1997).

DARIEN ROUTE BEST

Member of House Conference May Cause Further Delay on Canal Question.

Washington, June 23.—The opening conference on the isthmian canal bill at 2 o'clock today led to active comment on the outcome of this important measure. Representative Hepburn, the ranking house conferee, notified his as-sociates to be ready for the meeting, but no exact plans were discussed. There is no doubt that the house conferees will at the outset make strong insistence on the Nicaragua route, as provided by the house bill. Messrs. Hepburn and Davey are earnestly in favor of the Nicaragua route, and they indoubtedly will stand by the house bill as long as there is any possibility of its selection. On the other hand, Mr. Fletcher of Minnesota considers the Panama route better than the Nicaragua, although he thinks fuller investigation has shown the Darien route better than either of the others. However, as the present legislative issue appears to be confined to a choice between Nicaragua and Panama, Mr. Paterson, N. J., June 23.—It is esti-mated that 20 per cent of the employes

Fletcher probably will cast his influ-ence for the latter.

The length of the contest will depend, therefore, on the duration of the in-sistence of Messrs. Hepburn and Davey for the Nicaragua route and the atti-tude of the house in supporting such an insistence. There is little indication as to how long this insistence will last, but statements made by the house con-ferees lead to the belief that the insistence will not be carried to the point of a permanent deadlock, defeating all anal legislation at this session.

Jefferson City. Mo., June 28.—Several hundred Republicans are here tonight to attend the state convention, which will meet tomorrow to nominate a state ticket. Car Builders Make Demand for Increase of Pay.

Omaha, Neb., June 23.—The strike situation in the Union Pacific shops took on several new phases today, all of more or less significance. The representatives of the Car Builders' union met the officials with a demand for an increase of pay. They declare, however, that their action was in nowise influenced by the strike of the boilermakers. The railroad officials apparently took this view of it, for they anticipate a peaceable settlement in the car depart-

The machinists, who have had a grievance committee at work for some time, have secured from their national executive board an endorsement of whatever ac-tion they make and are holding a meeting tonight.

WANT FORESTS OF NORTHWEST PROTECTED

Portland, Ore., June 23.—W. H. Mills of San Francisco, head of the land department of the Southern Pacific, is here for the purpose of supplementing the efforts of the federal and state authorities in protecting the forests of Oregon against fires. The Southern Pacific owns about 1,200,000 acres of valuable timber lands in different sections of Oregan and it is the intention of the company to establish a thorough patrol of the timber belt during the summer.

Another object of Mr. Mills' visit to Portland at this time is the creation of one or more permanent forest reserves. Speaking of his visit here, Mr. Mills to-day said:

day said:

"Another object of my visit is to arrange for several more permanent forest reservations. The Southern Pacific already has a 27,000-acre reserve on the Mohawk river and it is my purpose now to arrange for a reservation of 105,000 acres on the Siuslaw river, and perhaps one or two smaller ones. This timber will not be touched for a great many years to come."

When the train stopped at Stampede, Yeschick left it, presumably to get a little exercise. He missed the train, his mother coming on to Portland. His dead body was found in the creek the following day. The clothing contained 50 cents in money and a cheap watch. The man's shoes had been removed, and were missing.
